1957 Homecoming to Feature Russ Carlyle and His Band

by Greg Mahoney

St. Joseph's Homecoming dance—1957 version—will be held in the Rec hall on Saturday night, Oct. 26. Russ Carlyle and his popular band will provide the background music for the dancing Pumas and their dates.

The theme for this year's dance will be "Concert of Love." In keeping with that theme, painted murals depicting sentimental song titles will adorn the walls of the newly-remodeled Rec hall.

Pep Rally Friday

The Homecoming weekend will officially open on Friday night, Oct. 25 with a pep rally at the west end of the fieldhouse for the St. Joe-Valparaiso game the following afternoon. The game, itself, will start at 1:30, Saturday afternoon. The Pumas hope to repeat their Homecoming triumph of last year when they blanked Evansville 32-0.

The series with Valparaiso, which dates back to 1921, and which represents the longest and hardest fought rivalry in St. Joseph's football history, reads 10 wins for the Valpo Crusaders, eight wins for the Pumas, and two ties.

Pick Queen Saturday

The Homecoming Queen will be chosen from the dates of the students on Saturday morning before the game. The winner and siver-eign of the weekend activities will be officially crowned at the half-time ceremonies by Lou Kun, president of the Student Council.

Revels After Dance

The dance is scheduled to start about 9:30, Saturday night and will run until 1:00-1:30. The Revels dance will begin immediately after the Homecoming dance, and will continue till about 4:00-4:30 a.m.

Combination tickets, good for both the dance and the Revels, afterwards, went on sale in the cafeteria for $6.00 per couple, Monday, Sept. 30. The first day of ticket-selling was limited to the seniors and juniors only. The second day tickets were sold to all the upperclassmen, and the third day, to the entire student body.

Alumni Party Set

A down payment of $1.00 was necessary to reserve a ticket. The balance is paid along with the verification that the student has secured an authorized residence in town for his date.

A Board of Directors of the SJ Alumni Organization will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday morning. After the game the Alumni will sponsor a cocktail party and buffet supper, complete with dancing until 8:30 p.m. The orchestra has not yet been named.

Student Committees Named
Maurice O'Connor, president of the Sophomore class is the Chairman of the Homecoming Committee.

The various subcommittees are headed by Jack Bellucci, Food; Bob Gallaher, Seating; Ken Brown and Ron Urban, Decorations; Don Ross, Pete Henderson, and Joe Manos, Tickets; and Phil Novell, Housing.

1957 Enrollment Shows Variety

The temporary housing inconvenience for those students who have to reside in the dormitory of the Science hall, the basement of the Administration building, and the second floor of the Power house will cease when the two new residence halls are ready for occupancy next fall.

This year only 30 of the 62 students, who represent the increase in enrollment over last year, are boarding students. The remaining 32 are day students and Xavier seminarians.

9 Foreign Students

Despite the hopes of some students, St. Joe is not going completely coeducational. This semester there are nine women students, eight of whom are married.

Nine foreign are attending St. Joe this year. Of these three are from Canada, two from China, and one each from Korea, Viet Nam, Bolivia, and Hungary. Also there are two from the territory of Puerto Rico.

Drop In Vets' Total

Bachelors beware! Of the 26 returning married students 12 said, "I do" during the summer. Seven new students who are married bring the total number of married students at St. Joe to 33.

Fifty-four returning veterans plus nine new ones comprise this year's vets representation on campus. This, however, is a drop of 30 from last year's number. The dropping of G. I. benefits has taken its toll on St. Joe as it has across the country.

SJ Debating Team Starts New Season

St. Joseph's Debating Society will launch its second season of competition in organized debate in the near future, according to Mr. Peter F. Holub, assistant professor of English and coach of the team. Twenty-four debates are tentatively scheduled for this year. Opposition will not be known until the scene of the debates has been determined.

Information Unlimited

This year's topic is considered by many in the education field to be the hottest proposition to be discussed in debating in the last 10 years. The proposition is as follows: "Resolved that the requirement of membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment should be illegal."

Coach Holub indicated that material for the St. Joe debaters has been pouring in from all over the country. The most recent contribution to the debating society was made by the Indiana Right to Work Committee, Inc. Mr. Stephen C. Noland, president of the committee, put at the disposal of the college all of his files, brochures, and pamphlets on the right to work law.

5 Upperclassmen Join

The St. Joe debaters are led this year by senior Jim O'Brien, a straight A student for six semesters. Along with Frank Unger and George Troha, who have graduated, and Ed McDermott, Jim O'Brien formed one-fourth of last year's

Newcomers Fill Vacancies Left By Departing Teachers, Staff

Fourteen new members have been added to the St. Joseph faculty for the 1957-58 school year. The teaching staff now totals 65 members, of which there are 40 priests, three nuns, one brother, one lay woman, and 20 laymen.

Thirteen of last year's faculty and staff have either departed or taken a leave of absence. Fr. Francis Hehn, professor of accounting, is absent on leave at the Provincial Curia House in Dayton, Ohio, the official headquarters of the American Province of the Society of the Precious Blood, where he will function in his position as treasurer of the Society. Fr. Lawrence Heiman, associate professor of speech and music, has left for the Pontifical Institute in Rome, where he will study liturgical music for one year. Fr. Ernest Ranly, instructor in philosophy, is doing graduate work at St. Louis University.

Those who are working elsewhere are: Drs. Emily Chen and Thaddeus Ponzniak; Miss Nell Harris, R.N.; and Messrs. Donald Brinley, Lloyd Lee, Hugh McAvoy, Salvatore Pupo, Glendale Scott, Bhaskara Sripati, and Elmer Walter.

Laymen joining the faculty this year are: Drs. Walter Blackledge and Robert Kreyche, and Messrs. Michael Davis, Louis Gatto, Adam Lesinsky, Richard Scharf, and Paul Vespa. Also one lay woman, Mrs. Adam Lesinsky has been added to the faculty.

Dr. Blackledge (not pictured), who holds a Master's degree in business and accounting from the University of Iowa, a Ph.D. degree in management, and a Doctor of Laws degree, comes from Los Angeles State college in California where he has taught for the last six years.

Dr. Blackledge has also been an assistant professor of business at Texas Christian University and at the University of Oklahoma. He has published several articles in business magazines and has written reports and reviews for various newspapers.

Dr. Robert Kreyche, who is teaching in the philosophy department, received his Master's degree in Philosophy at the Catholic University of America and his Ph.D. in philosophy at the University of Ottawa.

Dr. Kreyche has published "The Critical Realism of Roy Wood Sellars" in 1952, and a logic textbook Logic for Undergraduates, published by the Dryden Press in 1954. For the past ten years Dr. Kreyche taught at Loyola university in Chicago. He is presently working on a textbook in metaphysics.

Mr. Davis, who received his Master's degree in geology at Kansas State university in 1951, has returned to the faculty after three years as a consulting geologist with a firm in Denver, Colo. He taught geology at St. Joseph's from 1952-54.

Mr. Gatto, who is a Ph.D. candidate in English, received his Master's degree in English at DePaul university. Before coming to St. Joe, he taught English, speech, and drama at high schools in Zion, Ill., and Winnetka, Ill., where he was chairman of the Department of English at New Trier high school.

Mr. Lesinsky, who is the new band director, received his Master of Music degree from the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago. From 1931-57 he was head of the Music department of the Whiting, Ind., public schools, and has been a guest teacher in the summer schools at Northwestern university, Washington State college, Colorado State, George Peabody college, and the National Music Camp.

Mr. Lesinsky has had wide and varied experience in the field of music and has published a considerable number of books and articles on the subject. Among other accomplishments, he has played with the bands of John Philip Sousa and Bohumir Kryl, and has been director of the Father Lach Boys Symphonic Band.

Mr. Scharf returns to his teaching duties at St. Joe after a sabbatical year at Indiana university where he completed his course

Nurse Nell Leaves

Any of those upperclassmen who have had cause to visit the infirmary probably have noticed that Miss Nell Harris, R.N., is no longer head nurse.

Miss Jean Granfield, R.N., last year's assistant nurse, has succeeded to Miss Harris' position. Miss Granfield will be doing the work of two nurses until an assistant can be found.

Before coming to St. Joe, Miss Granfield was on the nursing staff at St. Mary's Hospital in Detroit, Mich.

Fidelus Lever, an Xavier seminarian, has been assisting Miss Granfield, and on weekends a nurse from town is on duty at the infirmary.

What Have We Here?

This charming group of ladies represents the prettier half of Puma married students. This picture was taken at the wives' first solo get-together of the year. (see p. 6)

Is School Spirit Really Worth It?

Recently, a group of hungry, disappointed students thundered into the cafeteria about 6:30 p.m., looking for their dinner which wasn't there. The reason why these students couldn't partake of their dinner was clearly obvious. The cafeteria stops serving dinner at 6:15 p.m.

The reason why these students were late, though, wasn't the usual alibi, over-sleeping in their afternoon nap or the intramural game didn't get finished in time. These students were on the student trip to the St. Joe-DePauw game at Greencastle, Ind.

The blame for this failure to provide dinner for those on the student trip upon their return from the game should not be bestowed on innocent people, namely the cafeteria staff. If the sponsors of the student trip had used a little more foresight and planning, suitable arrangements could have been made most likely worked out to provide dinner for these students upon their return from Greencastle.

Thus a regrettable and embarrassing situation could have been avoided.

There are certain activities on the social calendar which the students of St. Joe look forward to with great expectancy. One of these is the Homecoming dance.

The enthusiasm of the football game, the beauty of the campus in mid-autumn, and the gaily decorated halls all make for a colorful and delightful day for alumni, parents, students and, of course, the female guests.

But what about the dance at night? That's just it—what about it. This year's sophomore class, sponsor of the dance, doesn't seem to know anything about it nor do they care to know anything about it.

That sweeping generalization should be taken back. There are some who know and care about it. This handful of students deserve to be complimented for they are working to make the Homecoming a success.

But they are not representative of the entire class and the Homecoming is a class project. Next year the arrangements for the Prom will no doubt be left up to this same zealous handful.

Reviews at Random

by Jim McCullough

"This is a record of hate," begins Maurice Bendrix, the narrator in Graham Greene's The End of the Affair. But in this sometimes morbid, yet more often moving story of an adulterous love affair set in wartime England, it is really a swirl of hate, love, pity, and jealousy that involves the lives of Bendrix, his lover Sarah Miles, and Henry Miles, her husband.

Writer Bendrix sees in Henry, a stuffy civil servant, a good character subject and in Sarah a good source of information. Cynically planning to "pick her mind" for facts on Henry, Bendrix instead falls in love, and Sarah quite easily falls from her loveless marriage into his arms.

Their affair, conducted right under the nose of unsuspecting Henry, moves from a strange beginning to an inevitable end. The insecurity of his position fosters in Bendrix a raging jealousy and distrust of Sarah and an odd mixture of hate, envy, and companionship towards Henry.

Finally, during one of their trysts, a German V-1 rocket buries Maurice in a pile of rubble. Sarah prays to the God she doesn't believe in to give Bendrix life, promising in return to leave him forever. At that moment, revived from either death or unconsciousness (the reader is left to decide), Bendrix walks back into the room.

Sarah keeps her promise. Hate wells within Bendrix, who can only conclude that she has a new affair, a new Mr. X. Ironically, Sarah's husband gives Bendrix the opportunity to investigate his wife. Bendrix procures Sarah's diary, which compellingly records the agony of a soul torn between human and divine love.

Bendrix now realizes that his hated rival, the new Mr. X, is really God. In the diary Sarah calls herself "a bitch and a fake" but thanks God for letting her squander her human love on Maurice so that only divine love could be left. A bad cold left untended causes Sarah's death when Bendrix makes a determined bid to recover her. Bendrix's rival, God, is thus the ultimate victor.

The novel ends with Bendrix's slow realization that Sarah has made the leap from adultery to sainthood. (She performs two miracles that are fairly plausible to Catholic readers but condemned vehemently by many critics.) Another fearful realization hits him—if she could leap to sanctity, anybody could. "It's something He can demand of any of us."

Instead of sanctity Bendrix seems to choose the other course. "I hate you, God, . . . You've done enough. You've robbed me of enough. I'm too tired and old to learn to love. Leave me alone forever." These are the last words of the novel, but there is an implication left behind—Perhaps it is better to hate God than to feel nothing, for how thin is the dividing line between hate and love!

As in The Power and the Glory and The Heart of the Matter, Catholic novelist Greene again combines a superbly taut, suspenseful style with keen psychological perception of the inherent evil in man. Despite a too frequent use of coincidence, Graham Greene's considerable powers make The End of the Affair an "affair to remember."

A New Rising Sun

Conversation Piece

by Greg Mahoney

Twelve years ago Japan was a demoralized, shattered nation. In that part of the world where loss of face is despised more than the most hideous death, the Japanese empire had suffered the most ignoble humiliation possible—unconditional defeat.

The once exotic land of the comic operas was polluted with the lingering traces of an atomic hell. A good part of Japan's young generation lay scattered in death on the far-flung islands of the Pacific.

Foreign troops occupied Japan's cities, wandered through its ancient streets and temples, married its girls. The rest of the world had just about written Japan off as a non-entity in the rebuilding of a torn society of men.

Yet today, our enemy of a dozen years ago has risen from abject disgrace and defeat to capture the headlines of every American newspaper again. In its courts of law, Japan is trying the controversial case of a citizen-soldier of the greatest power in the world.

The trial of Pvt. Girard is a sign of the times in the Far East which should not go unnoticed in America.

In surrendering Girard to the Japanese law codes, the U. S. is not sacrificing one of its citizens to the gods of appeasement in foreign relations. Rather, it is a recognition on the part of our State Department that Japan has matured as a nation in the past years to the point where it can stand on its own feet and handle its own problems capably and democratically.

There seems to be a tradition in the history of post-war politics for the conquerors to foster an attitude of underestimation, misunderstanding and distrust toward the beaten foe.

After WW I, a gap of contempt was opened between Germany and the victorious European nations. Adolf Hitler stepped into that gap, and the rest of the tale is written in the casualty lists of WW II.

Japan, too, is in danger of falling into such a gap. The Girard trial, coupled with the evacuation of American occupational troops this year, is an important step in bridging that chasm.

The necessity of America's recognition of Japanese maturity was never more important than it is today. The Japanese islands form the last bulwark of a democratic society in the Orient. Japan is the hub around which the wheel of Far Eastern influence turns.

Recognizing this, the Communists have entered on a determined crusade to bring Japan under a common red flag with their Chinese cousins on the continent. The success or defeat of the Soviet mission depends on how poorly or how well the U. S. promotes its own program of faith and confidence in Japan.

America cannot be expected to wholly adapt a policy of "forgive and forget." No one could forget the horrors of five years of bloody war. But the United States can certainly try to understand and sympathize with a nation struggling to win back its national honor and independence.

The American occupation injected Japan with the first dose of real democracy in its history. Frequent transfusions of confidence and understanding by the U. S. would insure the continued health of this sick nation recovering from the greatest sickness of all—hate.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

Your request for student opinion in the May 10 issue of the St. Joe campus newspaper takes me back to the editorial I wrote for the first issue of the paper many years ago. "Progressive change," the title of that editorial, was a defense of the position I then held; in a three-page typed letter I had been severely criticized by one of the faculty members for going from "Collegian" to "Stuff."

Now, at sixty-two, I still believe in progressive change. And I think that you men have happily hit upon the right name—"The Worker."

Recently, because of the excessive humidity in these parts, I had to take the carburetor of my power lawnmower apart and wipe it dry of condensation. Then it worked all right again. A tinkerer might have had it out of "kilter" long before the flood. But you are not tinkering, as I was inclined to believe some past editors may have been.

Yes, there are other reasons for a change of name, but the two reasons you give are adequate. More power to you all and congratulations!

Sincerely,
S. H. Ley, C.P.P.S.
Past Faculty Director

Dear Editor,

A few months ago the students were called upon to elect representatives for the Student Council. I have no doubt that the results of the elections reflect the wishes of the students.

During these elections we, the foreign students, experienced, some of us for the first time, the celebrated American democracy. We were indeed very happy to participate in these truly democratic elections.

I noticed, however, that very little attention was paid to us during the campaign. This was either because the foreign students' votes were insignificant or it was because the candidates had little or no interest in the foreign students and their welfare.

I am convinced that nobody can sincerely represent our interest in the Student Council except a fellow foreign student. Only he can understand our difficulties and social problems.

The foreign student is here not only to acquire a degree, but also to learn the democratic way of life as well as to train for leadership. How can he train for leadership if he is not given the opportunity to learn by serving?

I strongly suggest that the constitution be amended so as to empower the president of the Council to appoint a foreign student (preferably a senior) yearly to the Student Council.

I know that the Student Council will heed this humble suggestion of mine and will hasten to amend the constitution.

Yours faithfully,
Pat Opara

Dear Fr. Hinton and Staff Members,

Please, please, do not change the name Stuff. It is a perfect name for a college paper. The person who thought of the name should be given a Laetare Medal.

I think that St. Joseph would prefer the title Stuff for a school paper under his patronage rather than the title, "The Worker." The Communist paper, "The Daily Worker" has spoiled the title "The Worker" for school papers as an inspirational word for years to come. It sounds drab!

Since my son, Don, became a student at St. Joseph's last year, I always look forward to each issue of Stuff. I know what the Pumas are doing, what dances are coming up.

Stuff roams the world now. It has been whisked to Europe to my son, Major John L. Buckley at army headquarters in Heidelberg, Germany. Stuff is winged to the gatehouse of a 17th century chateau near Paris where Don's sister, Patricia lives. She states that Stuff melts the miles away when she reads about the doings on the St. Joe campus.

The issue of May 9 asked for opinions on the possible change of name of the St. Joe paper. If only student opinions were sought then this letter is an intrusion and I am sorry. But as a Stuff fan I was compelled to write.

Sincerely,
Mrs. John P. Buckley

October is the month of the Holy Rosary. The rosary will be said each evening at 6:30 in the chapel. All students are urged to attend.

Measure Scores Again

Family Life Institute Has Eight Panel Discussions

by Rich Flashing

It has long been established that the family is the central function of the social order, and that most social problems are the result of poor conditions existing in a great percentage of families. Every social minded parent or family member has asked themselves, "What can I do to lessen these problems?" This question is being answered by a series of eight weekly panel and public discussions covering the problems of modern Christian family organization and operation.

The discussions are being held here on campus and at the college's Calumet center during October and November. The discussions are being addressed mainly to married couples. The discussions are a result of the work being done by the Family Life Institute, a segment of the Adult Education and Community Services Program of St. Joseph's college and its Calumet Center in Hammond, Ind.

Dr. Barton Speaks

The first discussion, "Facts and Fancies in Family Life Today," was led by Frank and Genevieve Cizon. This discussion was a general introduction to the series. Dr. Cizon teaches psychology and sociology at Loyola U. and at the Calumet Center.

This week the discussion was led by Dr. Jay Barton, associate professor of biology, and his wife, Ann. The main topic was the relation between parents and their children.

Toward Civic Order

Dr. Robert Schmitt will lead a discussion concerning the need of physical and mental health. Dr. Schmitt is formerly of the staff of Norman Beatty Hospital at Westville. He is now a practicing psychiatrist at the Child Guidance Clinic, Michigan City.

Next week, Anthony Kuharich, Northern Indiana federal probation officer, and Fred Steininger, Lake County Public Welfare Director, will lead a discussion on how strong families can contribute to better civil and public order.

Discuss Schools

The fifth discussion, led by Emil and Lucille Seliga, will be concentrated on the family income. Mr. Seliga is executive vice-president of Talman Federal Savings and Loan Assn. in Chicago.

The sixth discussion, led by Ted and Helen Lownik, will cover the school situation and what is expected of parents in regard to schools. Mr. Lownik is a former president of the Board of Education of Evergreen Park, Illinois.

Home Life Analysis

The seventh discussion, led by Max and Anne Drazer, shall concern the religious and cultural side of home life. Mrs. Drazer is the Family Life Chairman of the Gary Diocese.

SJ Thespians Plan "Stalag 17"

by Jim Chambers

The Columbian Players, the oldest campus organization at St. Joseph's, held its first meeting of the year on Monday, Sept. 30, in the auditorium. The majority of last year's members and a small number of new students attended.

Mr. Cappuccilli, moderator of the club, outlined a tentative plan for the 1957-58 season. The first major production will probably be "Stalag 17," a combination comedy-drama dealing with the lives of American soldiers in a German prisoner of war camp during World War II. Readings for parts in this play have already gotten underway, and a complete cast should be announced shortly.

Plan Historic Epic

The Players intend to enter a one-act drama in the annual Indiana Catholic College and Community Group play festival next March, in hopes of repeating last year's triumph. As many will recall the CP's "The Other Apostle," was rated the best production of the festival.

There is also a possibility of a mixed cast historical epic being staged next spring in conjunction with St. Xavier college of Chicago.

New Members Welcome

The club officers, elected last spring, began their official duties last week. They are: Jack Cochran, president; Joe Armon, vice-president, and Jim Rodgers, treasurer and acting secretary. Mr. Cappuccilli stated that he had hoped for a much larger turnout in new members at the first meeting. Those who are interested in joining the St. Joe thespians and did not attend the first meeting are welcome to come to future meetings.

Calumet Extension Presents Courses of Adult Instruction

CSPA Honors SJ's Measure For 1956-57

The St. Joe literary magazine, Measure, has been accorded an All-Catholic honor rating by The Catholic School Press Association for the 1956-57 school year. Measure received a total of 905 points out of a possible 1000.

To qualify for an All-Catholic rating, a publication must receive a minimum of 800 points. There are eight specific categories by which the publication is judged on a point basis.

Points for Quality

In Catholicity Measure received 185 out of a possible 200 points. In service to the school and student body the St. Joe literary magazine received 190 out of a possible 200 points. The editorial, editorial article, reviews, and criticism category found Measure receiving 105 out of a possible 120 points. 105 out of a possible 120 points were received in the article, essay, non-fiction sketch category.

For fiction content 110 out of a possible 120 points were received. For verse 105 out of a possible 120 points were received. Typography and makeup accounted for 60 out of a possible 70 points and art work was given 45 out of a possible 50 points.

DeMint Honored

In addition to this honor, staff artist of Measure, Tom DeMint, received an award designating one of his illustrations as "the best illustration in Catholic college magazines for the 1956-57 school year." Tom received a set of books on the writings of St. Thomas.

Cyril M. Gulassa is the editor of Measure and F. Alvin Druman, C.P.P.S., moderator of the magazine.

Fr. Otte Returns

work for a Doctorate in Health and Safety. He has been teaching accounting and physical education at St. Joe since 1940, and has served at various times as head football, baseball, and basketball coach.

This year, in addition to his teaching, Mr. Scharf will serve as director of the placement bureau, succeeding Hugh McAvoy.

Mr. Vespa, who will teach business and accounting, received his Master's degree at Columbia university. He has taught at Central Michigan college in Mount Pleasant, Mich.

Mrs. Lesinsky, wife of Mr. Adam Lesinsky, received her B.S. degree in Education from Valparaiso university. She has taught English and history in Kentucky and Indiana schools for many years and is teaching Freshmen English this year.

Mrs. Lesinsky has written feature articles on music for newspapers and is presently engaged in writing a book on the tour of the Boys Symphonic Band through Europe.

Six religious have joined the faculty this year. They include Sr. M. Petronella and Frs. William Eilerman, Edward McCarthy, Aloysius O'Dell, Joseph Otte and Paul Wellman.

Sr. Petronella received her B.A. degree in biology at Xavier university and her M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the Institutum Divi Thomae in Cincinnati where she studied, taught, and did research for the past 15 years.

Sr. Petronella's writings comprise a long list on such research subjects as chlorophyll, cancer, and penicillin.

Fr. Eilerman, who taught at St. Joseph's from 1954 to 1956, has returned to the faculty after completing his M.A. in accounting at the University of St. Louis. Fr. Eilerman also succeeds Dr. Chen as chief accountant of the College.

The Calumet extension of St. Joseph's college was established in 1951 to offer instruction in courses which are intended to contribute to the progress of students seeking degrees. The Calumet Center goes beyond this declared objective and attempts to meet the needs of an adult society as well.

The Adult Education Series is a program currently being offered at the Calumet center. The adult education program has three general aims: 1) to supply much that may be missing due to lack of educational opportunities in early life, 2) to offer information and training in fields of special interest by specialized courses, and 3) to create a broad educational interest in present day activity in so far as it affects professional, industrial, and social life.

Plan to Open Library

In an effort to supply adequate library facilities for course offerings at the Calumet Center, both in the regular student offerings and the special offerings in the Adult Education Series, the college is preparing to open a library at the Center.

Form Chess, Checker Club

A new club has taken its place on the Student Council's list of officially sanctioned extracurricular organizations. Fr. Charles Rueve, C.P.P.S., is the moderator of the new club which is to be known as the Chess and Checker club.

At a meeting last Thursday night, Oct. 3, George Daumeyer, a junior from Cincinnati, Ohio, was elected as first president of the club.

The club actually had its beginning last year on a limited scale. An inter-hall tournament was held between Merlini and Drexel halls. The Merlini team of George Daumeyer, Ron Eberhardt, Dennis Ryan, and Jerry Bosch defeated the Drexel squad of Joel Carlson, Ken Bogner, Tony Cabala, Joe Kanamuel, and Ron Urban. It is expected that these nine students will form the nucleus of the newly-formed club.

The club is open to any member of the student body. Tournament play will begin as soon as possible.

Fr. Otte has returned after a year's sick leave. He received his Master's degree in business administration from the University of Michigan in 1942. From 1946 to 1956 he was treasurer of St. Joseph's.

Fr. Otte is teaching several courses in accounting this year and has also been placed in charge of the Fathers and Mothers Club.

Fr. Wellman has joined the faculty after completing his course work toward his Master's degree in business administration at Marquette university. In addition to teaching, Fr. Wellman has succeeded Fr. Albert Wuest as the College's superintendent of buildings and grounds.

Fr. McCarthy, newly appointed to the faculty, obtained his M.A. in philosophy at Detroit university in 1945. For a period of four years Fr. McCarthy served as president of Sacred Heart college in Wichita, Kans.

Fr. O'Dell this past year received his licentiate degree in theology at the Grand Seminary, which is connected with the University of Montreal. He is teaching religion and has been appointed as assistant to Fr. Baird, who is admissions counselor and athletic director.

Presently the Calumet Center has only a depository collection from the campus library to supplement courses. Local public libraries in Gary, Hammond, Whiting, and East Chicago have cooperated by supplying books on the usual loan basis. Neither of these has been able to meet the needs of all the courses offered at the Extension.

Stock Variety of Books

The plans as they now stand call for a stocking of a library with about 4000 books, ranging from reference books to specific books selected on the basis of course offerings upon the recommendation of the instructors. Some of the books will be of a permanent nature, great books and classics and others will be of a semi-permanent nature, books currently needed for courses.

The development of the Calumet Center's library facilities is just one of the steps toward the establishment of a Junior College in the Calumet Region. The actual realization of this goal is several years away at the present time.

Parents' Reception Honors Fr. Gross

A Reception in honor of the Very Reverend Raphael Gross, C.P.P.S., Ph.D., President of St. Joseph's was sponsored by the college Fathers and Mothers Club in Chicago on Sunday, Sept. 29. The Reception was held in the Crystal Ballroom of the Del Prado Hotel.

There were about 150 mothers, fathers, guardians and friends of St. Joseph's students in attendance. Representing the college faculty were Frs. Gross, McCarthy, Kaiser, Baird, Robbins, and Otte. Father Otte was recently appointed moderator of the Parents Clubs, replacing Father Baird.

The past presidents of the Parents Clubs presented Father Baird with a gift in appreciation of his great cooperation and wished him the best in his new capacity as Director of Athletics.

Father Gross was introduced by Father Otte, and then gave a talk on the present and future of St. Joseph's. The Fathers and Mothers Club then presented Father Gross with two checks amounting to $4,000, which represented the amounts made from parties and raffles of the Clubs the past year. The check will be used to help defray the expenses incurred by improvements made at St. Joe.

Collegeville Confidential

by Tim J. Sullivan, Jr.

Well, rabble, STUFF now has a new column. A column that was designed to dig up all the little happenings that are swarming about the St. Joe Campus. We're here to write about you, and for you, so let's kick-off the first edition of COLLEGEVILLE CONFIDENTIAL.

Beginnings

It seems that we're not the first to do Collegeville Confidential. In doing research (necessary for all writings of importance, as you all know from Social Science) we came across our ancestor, written by John White '56 and Chuck Vietzen '56. They wrote the first C. C. back in '55.

Dirty Dealings

There seems to be foul play afoot. Someone "picked up" the Student Council siren the other night. I'll bet Ulysses didn't have as much trouble with his sirens as the S. C. is having with theirs. (C. F. Handbook concerning stealing of sirens.)

Was It the Mother Ship?

The boys in Seifert, both East and West, were slightly excited the other night. It seems that three "U.F.O." (unidentified flying objects) were sighted just west of the hall. Despite cries of "Send a frosh out to see what they are!" and "Wait I'll get my camera!" the three sometimes silver, sometimes golden, (there was a little conjecture about that point) objects flew off. Was it a mirage? We'll know when the pictures are developed.

Prof.: A text book wired for sound.

Interesting Summer.

How did you spend your summer? Jack Sheldon '60 spent eight weeks in a hospital nursing, of all things, a Black Widow Spider bite. He says he was in a boat fishing when it happened.

Parent: (Collegian Definition). The kin you love to touch.

Dear Jo-h-n

Congratulations to Denny Gebele '60 for receiving the first Dear John letter of the year. Seems it was waiting for him on Registration Day.

A College education is a four year plan for confusing a young mind methodically.

Lectures Help In Development Of Personality

Does your best girl (mother, wife, or girl friend, as the case may be) have a personality problem? If she does, it might have been a good idea for her to have registered in St. Joseph's college Calumet Center's newest educational series, "Your Personality—The New Program for Modern Women."

This series, which began on Oct. 2 and will end on Nov. 20, discusses three important phases of feminine personality: 1) How to make the most of makeup, dress grooming, poise, etiquette, and manners; 2) How to bring out personality at home or outside; 3) How to use leisure time through reading, entertainment and conversation, to enrich natural personality.

Miss Illinois Lectures

The series consists of eight lectures on various facets of personality development. Well-known guest lectures from all branches of society conduct the sessions.

In the first session held on Oct. 2, Evelyn Duggan, president of the A-Plus Model Agency in Chicago, and Jeannie Beacham, Miss Illinois and Miss Photoflash of 1957, brought out the qualities of personal charm.

"Etiquette and Manners"

On Oct. 9, in the second session of the series, Ken Dobbs, casting director for Sarra Films Studio, emphasized the techniques of personality and poise.

"Etiquette and Manners" will be the topic for discussion at the third session on Oct. 16. Tom and Mollie Lyman, coordinators of the series, will conduct this lecture.

Personality In Home

Mr. William Keck, A.I.A., a famous Midwestern architect, will talk at the Oct. 23 lecture, "The Personality of Your Home."

"Television and Movies" will be the theme of the Oct. 30 lecture by Mr. Edward Fischer, associate professor, Department of Communication Arts, Notre Dame University.

Riflemen Increase Membership Roster

The Rifle Club has increased its membership to an estimated 45 this semester. The new prospective sharpshooters have been attracted by the club's accent on a variety of events, such as matches with Purdue and N. W. Michigan Mines.

The Rifle Club has facilities for indoor and outdoor shooting with .22 pistols and rifles. The club welcomes anyone interested in informal shooting or serious competition.

What Do You Think?

by Dick Vomish

Last January the students of St. Joseph's sponsored a talent and variety show. In judging the results of this program the student body and faculty received it in a most favorable way. Do you think the idea of a campus musical would go over as far as student participation is concerned?

John Galvin, junior, Paducah, Kentucky

As in all events which occur on this campus only a certain few will take part. I am under the opinion that people will be hard to find when it comes time to cast.

Although on the other hand I think the students will enjoy the production. But as I said before the students will enjoy it but I think very few will participate.

Stephen Bepce, Sophomore, East Chicago, Indiana

In my opinion a campus musical similar to the one held last year would create a great amount of interest on this campus. There are many talented students around us who should be given an opportunity to exhibit their abilities.

I am certain that the men of St. Joseph's would display a great deal of enthusiasm and unfold a very fine show. Entertainment of this type would definitely be met with interest, not only by the talented students themselves, but by the entire student body of the college.

We are all curious to know just how much talent is available at St. Joe.

Jim St. Amour, Sophomore, Chicago, Illinois.

A musical comedy would go over in a big way here at St. Joe's. There are a number of students here on campus that have the ability and would be willing to put on this type of a program.

I have often wondered why the matter hasn't been brought up before, considering most students are interested in their type of entertainment.

As far as audience reaction is concerned, the success of the variety show last January was such as not to warrant any fear for the acceptance of a musical. A musical would be similar to the variety show, with the slight difference that a musical would be more organized with possibly a light plot holding the entire thing together.

I'm all for the idea, and hope that we can see it materialize.

Maurice O'Connor, Sophomore, Evansville, Ind.

I think that a variety show would be a great success. Everyone who witnessed the last one would be encouraged to take part in the next one. In a variety show you can combine both novelty and musical acts, and this would allow a greater number of students to participate.

However, in the case of a musical, I think that by its very nature a musical limits the amount of talent which would be able to participate in it.

Thus I think that a variety show would be a greater success than a musical. But I do think that as far as student participation in either one is concerned, both would go over.

William Grannan, Junior, Washington, Ind.

The idea of a student musical for St. Joe sounds swell to me. There is however a tremendous difference between an idea and a production. Between the two points lies lots of work. If enough students who were willing to undertake such a time consuming extra curricular activity could be found then it would be a strong possibility.

There would also be the big question of talent. In order to make up a decent show the participants must have necessary talents and be willing to develop them to something more than mediocre.

The above requirements would limit student participation, but who knows if enough effort were exerted the results could be amazing.

I personally would enjoy such a production and I'm sure many other students would also.

Richard Winans, Junior, Joliet, Ill.

After hearing the results of the successful outcome of the talent show last January, I think that if there were to be another musical or variety, the student body will accept the participants with just as much enthusiasm as they did last year.

However, this cannot be true of any musical show. The students in general, are not looking for something that they, know or heard of, "isn't so hot."

Something on the lighter side, or more up to date, is likely to be more successful than a semi-classical piece. Also this could be another asset to the music department as well as the college itself.

INTRAMURAL SCOREBOARD

by Roger Redelman

The fall intramural football season began Monday, Sept. 31, and with it began a new race for the All Sports Trophy, won last year by the Ad. Building. Getting back to the tough football season, this year there are twenty one teams participating. Twelve in the upper class league and nine in the freshman league.

After the first week of play it looks like a repeat of last year. The defending champions, the Bennett Gamokes, are back again and are picking up right where they left off last season. They remain undefeated in a string of twelve games, ten of those coming from last year when they went undefeated. The old scoring combo of Jancich to Rick-ord is once again the terror of the league, having clicked for five touchdowns in two games.

Watch Dorm 7 Mistakes

The East Seifert Overtakers lead the league with three wins to two for the Gamokes, and the Bennett Stags. We look for the Overtakers, Gamokes, and Stags to battle it out, with the Noll 7-7's a dark horse.

In the freshman league the teams are still pretty well bunched together. However, the Dorm 7 Mistakes seem to be the team to beat. They are undefeated in two starts and have looked good in both outings. Only time will tell in either league.

Will Champs Repeat

Other intramural sports coming up in the next few weeks are tennis, horseshoes, and football events day. In tennis the turnout was greater than it has been in recent years. Nine doubles teams are entered in the fall tournament, including returning champions Art Drea and Don Todd. In the singles tournament there are twenty one players entered. Art Drea, returning champ, is back hoping to win again. We do not know the caliber of the players but it has got to be an improvement over last year turnout, when only eight players signed up.

In horseshoes also we find last year's champ attempting to make it two in a row. He is senior Irwin Urban. Here, too, in horseshoes we find a marked increase in participants. Whereas last year there were only four entries, this year there are eight doubles teams and thirteen entries in the singles tournament.

Forfeit Loses Points

Coming up Oct. 23 is football events day. This is the day when each individual who signs up is given a number of tests in such phases of football as passing, running, and kicking. Points are awarded for each test and the person with the highest total points wins.

A reminder to all captains of all teams, if you forfeit any games you immediately lose your entry points plus fifteen more points which are subtracted from your All Sports Trophy total.

That's Our Murphy

Mike Murphy, Puma fullback, breaks through a hole in the Butler line. Murph led SJ ground gainers with 137 yards and three TD's.

Pumas Crush Bulldogs For 3rd Straight Victory

by Tom Mahoney

The Pumas combined a crushing ground attack with accurate passing to hand a jolting 34-13 loss to Butler university's Bulldogs here, Saturday, Oct. 5. Fullback Mike Murphy ground out 137 yards and three touchdowns to lead the Puma offense.

The defending ICC champions were in charge all the way. Butler, conference runner-up in 1956, did not break into the scoring column until the final quarter when halfback Phil Mercer broke loose and sprinted 80 yards from scrimmage, the game's longest run.

SJ Gains 427 Yards

Though the Pumas stayed on the ground most of the time, the deadly aim of quarterback Ralph Tite kept the Butler defense honest. Tite had five completions in as many tries for 102 yards. St. Joseph's total yardage for the game was 427, while Butler amassed 209.

Murphy, on a first period 14-yard jaunt, began the game's scoring. It climaxed a 55-yard march, all on the ground, which took seven plays. End Ed Labbe added the extra point.

Murphy Scores Again

A few plays after the start of the second quarter Keith Fingerhut bulled nine yards for the second Puma marker. A 30-yard Tite to Sherwood pass sparked the drive in which the Pumas moved 89 yards in 10 plays. Labbe again converted.

Another Tite aerial, this time to Dick Romo, covered 42 yards and helped give the Pumas another score before the half. Murphy plunged over from the three for the touchdown, but Tite's try for the extra point was no good, and the Pumas led at the half, 20-0.

80 Yard TD Run

St. Joseph's offense kept rolling in high gear during the third quarter. Murphy again carried for the score, this time a seven-yard plunge, after the Pumas had gone 70 yards in 17 plays, including two completed passes. Labbe booted the point. Later in the period Tite snuck over from the one after a 48-yard march in eight plays. Again Labbe's conversion was successful, and the quarter ended with the Pumas ahead, 34-0.

Butler came to life in the fourth quarter when Mercer, the game's leading rusher with 142 yards in seven carries, raced 80 yards to pay dirt. Ken Stewart kicked the point. In the closing moments of the game Butler moved 80 yards in 10 plays for their second touchdown. Quarterback John Moses threw five yards to end Ken Spruets to finish the game's scoring.

Varsity Views

The win over Butler was the most impressive of the short season, yet it probably did more for the morale of the team and the student body than anything that has happened so far. Bill Brinkman was right the night of the pep rally before the Butler game and those of you who heard him know what I'm talking about. It's easy to back a winner but it's a real test of spirit when things don't go so well. And we flunked that test miserably. But Saturday's demonstration seems to have straightened things out on both sides. Now we have one goal in sight, a third straight ICC championship. Let's get it.

I don't think that many of you saw that intra-squad game between the freshmen, but you no doubt felt the impact of the tackling and blocking all the way over at the power house. In that squad it appears that Coach Jauron has the cream of the crop from the Catholic league in Chicago. Believe me, those guys put on a show that afternoon. They let it be known that they wanted to play ball and heaven help the guy in their way. That's the kind of spirit that will keep St. Joe on the top of the heap for years to come.

On the lighter side: I overheard a DePauw co-ed remark during the St. Joe-DePauw game, "No wonder they're so good, they play with the Chicago Bears all summer."

In closing I'd like to extend my congratulations to Coach Jauron, his staff, and the entire team for the showings they have made this year. The way our line was hitting Butler Saturday shows that the Pumas are a team to be reckoned with in any league. There are some tough tilts ahead but the whole school is behind your every move right down to the end. We're all pulling for a third conference championship in a row. We know you'll bring home the bacon.

St. Vincent's, Indiana St. Next As Pumas Hit Road for Two

by Joe Gregorich

St. Joseph's football squad will interrupt its quest for another ICC championship, when they travel to Latrobe, Penn., on Sunday, Oct. 13 to challenge the St. Vincent Bearcats.

St. Vincent, who has beaten teams by such scores as 40-0 and 42-12 this year, will send an unbeaten team into the contest. St. Vincent's also has an eight-game winning streak dating back to last season.

Two 140 Pound Backs

The Bearcat attack this year is built around a pair of 190-pound halfbacks, Paul Bradley and Ed Watkins. Between them, the two seniors have gained slightly over four-fifths of the team's entire rushing yardage. Watkins, who has an 85-yard TD dash to his credit this year, has lugged the ball for 7.5 yards per carry, while Bradley has averaged 5.3 yards per carry.

ICC Standings

The win was the second of the year against one loss for Coach Bob Jauron's Pumas. DePauw had won its only previous game of the season, 26-6 against Illinois Wesleyan.

Klein Paces Offense

Les Klein, St. Joseph's speedy soph halfback, was again their most potent offensive threat, as he garnered 110 yards in seven carries. Murphy carried 16 times for 72 yards, and Dick Romo gained 63 yards in 12 carries. Ernie Modzelewski, 195-pound senior half-

St. Vincent possesses two of the lightest gridders in collegiate football in Willard Fox and Mike Scatena. Each tips the scales at 140 pounds. Fox has lettered two seasons with the Bearcats, and odd as it may seem, is one of the best defensive halfbacks of the squad. The junior scatback, however, had an injured ankle in pre-season workouts and was used only sparingly in the first few games.

Sycamores Optimistic

The following Saturday, the Pumas travel to Terre Haute, where they will resume their ICC gridiron wars against the Indiana State Sycamores.

After floundering around in last place for the past two years, Indiana State backers are maintaining an air of optimism for the 1957 campaign. This year's squad boasts 20 lettermen, including able replacements for graduation losses, plus a new head coach, Bill Jones. Jones is fresh from the high school ranks, where twice his teams ran up a 20-game winning skein.

Sutch Directs Offense

A breakdown of the lettermen shows that 10 of the 20 are backs, and four of the 10 linemen are ends. The most notable of these are quarterback Jim Sutch, tackle Barney Poole, and end Don Ellar, all of whom possess three football letters each.

In 1956, St. Joe beat State 59-13 in a night game.

What An Average!

Puma sophomore halfback Les Klein leads the nation's small college ground gainers as of Oct. 4, 1957.

Klein had amassed 310 yards in 16 carries for a 19.4 yards per carry. His average per game is 103.3 yards.

Romo Romps and Klein Kapers

The Pumas' outstanding new halfbacks, Dick Romo and Les Klein, demonstrate the form which has made them the scourge of St. Joe opposition.

Falvey Store Sponsors SJ Merchandise Club

by Emil Janc

Clothes-conscious students of St. Joe who would like to add to their wardrobe and do so economically, will be interested in the Merchandise club being sponsored by Falvey's Men's Store in Rensselaer. Bob Childs, owner and manager of Falvey's, has designed the Merchandise club with an eye toward acquainting St. Joe students with the store and what it has to offer.

The club works in the following way: each week, members of the club deposit $2.00 at the store. It is advised that they do so in person. At the end of each week, there is a drawing and one of the members wins $50.00 worth of any merchandise he desires. This member is then exempt from all further payments unless he wants to remain in the club, in which case he continues to pay his $2.00 each week.

$100 in Last Drawing

The club lasts 25 weeks and if at the end of this time a member has not won, he then automatically receives $50.00 worth of merchandise.

The final drawing after the 25th week is of special importance since the prize is $100.00 worth of merchandise. It is impossible to lose and a member can win on only $2.00.

Club Opens Oct. 14th

At the beginning, the club will include both the students of St. Joe and the residents of Rensselaer. After 150 St. Joe students sign up however, they will have a club of their own and will thereby have a better chance of winning.

The club opens on Oct. 14th and the first drawing will be on Oct. 19th. In order to start the ball rolling and give the students an added incentive to visit the store, certificates worth $1.00 on any purchase will be distributed to the students next Wednesday.

Debators to Start

debating team which made such a fine showing in their inaugural competition against such schools as Butler, Purdue, Indiana university, Ball State, Wayne university, Wisconsin university, Chicago university, Georgetown, and many others.

Also returning from last year's team are Jim Klear, Dick Gallo, and from last year's top four, Ed McDermott. Upperclassmen admitted to the society in September are George Lux, Al Bianucci, Ray Tennant, Dave Daniels, and Gerald Burton.

Fr. Maziarz Forms Team

A promising group of freshmen, all of whom are either pre-law, teaching, or politics majors, are expected to add depth to the team. In this group are Kenny Brand, Fred Reynolds, Tom Schoenbaum, Jim Sullivan, and J. Dan Talbott. Other prospective members auditioned this week.

Much of the credit for the establishment of a debating team on campus should go to its sponsor, Fr. Edward Maziarz, C.P.P.S., academic dean of the college. In an effort to stimulate the best thinking student minds on the campus, Fr. Maziarz decided to form a society which would fulfill this objective. The result was the formation of the St. Joseph's Debating Society.

Puma Wives Hold 1st Party

The wives of the married students of St. Joseph's held their first social of the year last Thursday night in the lounge of Merlini hall. The purpose of this "Dessert Party" was to acquaint the wives of the new students with the returning students' wives.

Serving as hostesses were Miss Skinner, dietitian of the college, and Miss Henshel, secretary to the academic dean.

The organization was formed three years ago under the sponsorship of the office of the academic dean. The club usually meets monthly. There are no officially elected officers nor are there any membership dues. The club is purely informal.

The wives take turns arranging the monthly socials. At present there are about 30 members.

5 Frosh Win Soph Pardon

For five freshmen, sophomore initiation is a thing of the past. These five, Dan Lewandowski of the Science Dorm, Tim Connor, Charles Swank, and Don Koors of the Administration building, and Richard Schuller of Gaspar, were the bearers of the cleverest signs promoting spirit for the recent St. Joe-Butler game.

Before the day of the game, the sophomore initiation committee announced that every freshman must carry a sign pertaining to the Butler game, and that the holders of the five best signs would be excused from any further initiation.

A committee composed of Maurice O'Connor, sophomore class president, Ed Duffy, Don Buckley, and Matt Lynch judged the frosh placards.

Personality Talks At Calumet Center

Chicago U. Profs Talk

In the November series of lectures the following topics will be considered: "Using Your Leisure Time," "You and Your Opinion," and "Your Creative Personality." Two guest lecturers, Dr. Yves Simon, professor of philosophy at the University of Chicago, and Mr. Maurice F. X. Donahue, Dean of the University of Chicago Downtown Center, have been scheduled to lecture at the latter two sessions, respectively.

The entire series is being conducted by the St. Joseph's college Calumet Center, Rev. James I. Birkley, C.P.P.S., director.

CAMPUS

STRIPES

The biggest rush on the campus this season is for sport coats with the new soft stripes—and we have them, superbly tailored by Style-Mart. The fabric is all wool and colors are college fashioned—mist black alternating with rich brown, rust, smoky blue and olive.
